AGUIGUI -Possible Threat

After speaking at length with (E), (P) AGUIGUI should be returning to Ft. Stewart on Sunday (we're checking on flights now). There is no known concrete connection to any terrorist ideation or group, nor has any specific threat been articulated.

According to (E), (P) AGUIGUI is apparently an intelligent, odd 20 year-old, who spent one year at West Point before being discharged for an incident with a knife. During his service as an enlisted member, he met his wife, who died pregnant. Toxicology results are not available and cause of death is unknown per Army CID. AGUIGUI may have fired a round in his military residence prior to this wife's death; he may be discharged from the Army at some point due to this incident.

AGUIGUI is Guamanian, and his father was a career Army soldier. He was groomed from an early age to become an Army officer. AGUIGUI was home-schooled with a pronounced Christian emphasis. He has been fascinated with weapons from an early age.

He is apparently at home on AL (we are confirming leave status now), and spending an immediate insurance settlement from the death of his wife on a variety of things, including the purchase of up to 15 rifles yesterday (AGUIGUI purchased the weapons on Thursday, but picked them out on Wednesday of this week). He may have tried to purchase a silencer. AGUIGUI plans to place the weapons in the custody of a friend when he travels back to Ft. Stewart this Sunday. He has not expressed any suicidal ideation or the like.

According the Army CID, AGUIGUI may have been mentioned in a murder-for-hire plot, and recently reported the loss/theft of an issued handgun.

AGUIGUI is living in Wenatchee, address unknown (not at the (P) of his parents). (E), (P) will be able to provide the address.

Morning again,

Background

Just spoke with Det. Sgt. (P) cell (S), (P). AGUIGUI is most likely residing at (P) with his parents. (P) has spoken with High Mountain Hunting Supplies in Cashmere. One of the employees has confirmed that AGUIGUI has purchased a number of firearms to include AR variants (described as black guns) and bolt action rifles. One of the employees may be a friend of AGUIGUI. Det. (P) is concerned that if a LEO asks the gun store for a list of weapons, the information will leak to AGUIGUI.

The information about AGUIGUI's weapon's purchases is (E), (P)

(E)

As some of us know, AGUIGUI's wife and unborn child died under mysterious circumstances within the last two months; AGUIGUI is a suspect, but has already received a monetary benefit from the death. He is spending quite a bit of money.

AGUIGUI was supposedly accepted to West Point, but later washed out. He later enlisted, and may be in the process of receiving a less-than-honorable discharge.

AGUIGUI may be traveling back his base this Sunday.

AGUIGUI is supposedly interested in explosives, and has expressed distaste for the Army.

Cashmere is a small town in Chelan County, serviced by the Chelan County Sheriff's Office. Contact is Det. Sgt. (P) [REDACTED]. He is aware of this situation, but just arrested a shooting subject.

Action Items for Recipients

1. Army CID contact requested to determine status of murder and cocaine distribution charges against AGUIGUI. Determine if any enforcement action is possible to immediately neutralize any potential threat.
2. SAs (P) [REDACTED] prepare to travel to Cashmere/Wenatchee.
3. We're conducting an initial telephonic interview with (E, P) [REDACTED] right now.
